Reason: Claim purports to assert liabilities associated with the litigation captioned Francisco Beltrán Cintrón et al. v. Puerto Rico Department of Family Affairs, Case No. KAC-2009-0809 ("Beltrán Cintrón"). However, based on documentation submitted by the attorney representing all claimants in the litigation, Claimant is not a named plaintiff in that litigation, and there is therefore no basis for claimant to assert liabilities associated with that litigation against the Commonwealth, HTA, ERS, or any other Title III debtor. Further, even if Claimant were in fact a plaintiff in that litigation, the claim would be duplicative of Claim nos. 179140 and 93199, the master proof of claims filed on behalf of all plaintiffs associated with the litigation captioned Beltrán Cintrón.

Reason: Claim purports to assert liabilities associated with the litigation captioned Frente Unido de Policías Organizados et al. v. Puerto Rico Police Department, Case No. KAC-2007-4170 ("FUPO"). However, based on documentation submitted by the attorney representing all claimants in the litigation, Claimant is not a named plaintiff in that litigation, and there is therefore no basis for claimant to assert liabilities associated with that litigation against the Commonwealth, HTA, ERS, or any other Title III debtor. Further, even if Claimant were in fact a plaintiff in that litigation, the claim would be duplicative of Claim No. 161091, the master proof of claim filed on behalf of all plaintiffs associated with the litigation captioned "FUPO".

However, based on documentation submitted by the attorneys representing all plaintiffs in those litigations, Claimant is not a named plaintiff in either litigation, and there is therefore no basis for Claimant to assert liabilities associated with either litigation against the Commonwealth, HTA, ERS, or any other Title III debtor. Further, even if Claimant were in fact a plaintiff in either litigation, the claim would be duplicative of the master proofs of claim filed on behalf of all plaintiffs associated with the Pérez Colón and Abrams Diaz litigations.

Reason: Claim purports to assert liabilities associated with the litigation captioned Madeline Acevedo Camacho et al. v. Puerto Rico Department of Family Affairs, No. 2016-05-1340 ("Acevedo Camacho"). However, based on documentation submitted by the attorney representing all claimants in the litigation, Claimant is not a named plaintiff in that litigation, and there is therefore no basis for claimant to assert liabilities associated with that litigation against the Commonwealth, HTA, ERS, or any other Title III debtor. Further, even if Claimant were in fact a plaintiff in that litigation, the claim would be duplicative of Claim nos. 32044 and 103072, the master proof of claims filed on behalf of all plaintiffs associated with the litigation captioned Acevedo Camacho.

Reason: Claim purports to assert liabilities associated with the litigation captioned Madeline Acevedo Camacho et al. v. Puerto Rico Department of Family Affairs, No. 2016-05-1340 ("Acevedo Camacho"). However, based on documentation submitted by the attorney representing all claimants in the litigation, Claimant is not a named plaintiff in that litigation, and there is therefore no basis for claimant to assert liabilities associated with that litigation against the Commonwealth, HTA, ERS, or any other Title III debtor. Further, even if Claimant were in fact a plaintiff in that litigation, the claim would be duplicative of Claim nos. 32044 and 103072, the master proof of claims filed on behalf of all plaintiffs associated with the litigation captioned Acevedo Camacho.

However, based on documentation submitted by the attorney representing all claimants in the litigation, Claimant is not a named plaintiff in that litigation, and there is therefore no basis for claimant to assert liabilities associated with that litigation against the Commonwealth, HTA, ERS, or any other Title III debtor. Further, even if Claimant were in fact a plaintiff in that litigation, the claim would be duplicative of Claim nos. 32044 and 103072, the master proof of claims filed on behalf of all plaintiffs associated with the litigation captioned Acevedo Camacho.

Reason: Claim purports to assert liabilities associated with the litigation captioned Madeline Acevedo Camacho et al. v. Puerto Rico Department of Family Affairs, No. 2016-05-1340 ("Acevedo Camacho"). However, based on documentation submitted by the attorney representing all claimants in the litigation, Claimant is not a named plaintiff in that litigation, and there is therefore no basis for claimant to assert liabilities associated with that litigation against the Commonwealth, HTA, ERS, or any other Title III debtor. Further, even if Claimant were in fact a plaintiff in that litigation, the claim would be duplicative of Claim nos. 32044 and 103072, the master proof of claims filed on behalf of all plaintiffs associated with the litigation captioned Acevedo Camacho.

Reason: Claim purports to assert liabilities associated with the litigations captioned Juan Pérez Colón et al. v. Puerto Rico Department of Transportation & Public Works, Case No. KAC 1990-0487 ("Pérez Colón") and Jeannette Abrams Diaz et al. v. Department of Transportation & Public Works, Case No. KAC-2005-5021 ("Abrams Diaz"). However, based on documentation submitted by the attorneys representing all plaintiffs in those litigations, Claimant is not a named plaintiff in either litigation, and there is therefore no basis for Claimant to assert liabilities associated with either litigation against the Commonwealth, HTA, ERS, or any other Title III debtor. Further, even if Claimant were in fact a plaintiff in either litigation, the claim would be duplicative of the master proofs of claim filed on behalf of all plaintiffs associated with the Pérez Colón and Abrams Diaz litigations.
